

Know Where To Get Care

If you have a medical concern, please call our office first. We reserve last minute appointments for urgent care needs every day. After hours, there is a physician on call through our office number to answer your questions and help decide if your problem needs immediate attention or can wait until the next day to be seen in our office.

Sometimes though, you may need care outside of our hours. The following are some tips to help you decide whether you need to head to the nearest urgent care or emergency room.

Conditions Typically Treated in an Urgent Care

- Sinus infections
- Cold or flu symptoms
- Minor cuts, burns or skin rashes
- Animal/insect bites
- Sprains and minor bone fractures
- School, sports, camp and work physicals
- Workers' compensation care
- Occupational medicine
- Ear and eye infections
- Sore throat
- Minor injuries
- Urinary tract infection

Conditions Typically Treated in an Emergency Room

- Chest pain
- Stroke
- *Poisoning
- Severe allergic reaction
- Serious trauma or injury
- Deep cuts or bleeding that won't stop
- Large bone fractures
- Problems related to pregnancy
- Severe burns
- Difficulty breathing
- Loss of consciousness
- Seizures
- Severe abdominal pain
- Vomiting blood

**In North Carolina, call the Carolinas Poison Control Center at (800) 848-6946. Calling the National Poison Control Center at (800) 222-1222 connects callers to the nearest poison control center.*
